Blue Village
Besties

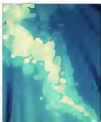

They emerged about twenty years ago, taking over the market for not only everyday products, but also that of the image beasts.

They are also one of the most popular brands in the capital.

Their icon is one of a beaten snake,

GET UP!!

UWAH!

L-LADY KARIN?

SIR MUGI, AS WELL!

HEY! HURRY
AND WAKE UP!

Shin Woon

All the people here
aren't hunters.

But are just ordinary people who settled in
from the outside.

Most of these jobs
attend to the needs of Purdon Machine.

I often wonder how they protect themselves from mirage beasts without using the Iron Sea as camouflage.

All of the accidents are kind, helpful people.
They've taught me
all sorts of things.

But they all fall silent when I ask about the mirage beast hunters.

Manga Beast
hunters.

As the name
suggests they hunt
manga beasts.

Manga beasts are creatures, formed by their many eyes and physiology. They are ancient creatures that have resided in these lands long before humans.

Manga beasts live only in the northern regions and the Forest of Manga Beasts.

They are hunted for their elegant fur and precious blood, which fetch a high price in the market.

Manga beasts are magical in that they can only be slain using dragon artifacts.

The hunters have been hunting them even before the laws of the kingdom were established.

They maintain their autonomous reputation for their dragon nature and resist to obey orders from the Capital.

Hence,

they possess masses
of Dragon Artifacts,
many unknown
to the Capital,

and used even before they were introduced to the military.

However, rumours
can only go so far.

Anyone who has visited this village with the intention of trade vanished without a trace.

Come to think of it,
I often went to the
shops with the Python
trademark.

Maybe it's due to the many manga book-
related products, but...

There's something about the way the characters of the world...

It's not the same as the other characters of the world...

It's like...
Something that should be here,
can't.

Chirp

The hunters
have arrived!

Finally...!!

O sacred being, connecting the Heaven and the Earth

those of distant
relations both sought
after then

I beseech of thee, to bestow upon me thy glory.
